

Case Study – Home Office

FAST DELIVERY, EASY ASSEMBLY AND COMMERCIAL QUALITY MAKE PERFECT HOME OFFICE

When Donna Sutter and her husband started working from home in March, they had no idea if or when they would return to their offices. They began with temporary workstations and complete uncertainty on the duration of the COVID-19 pandemic and their long-term plans.

“At first, my husband was in the middle of the living room, and I was on the TV tray with a laptop,”

Donna said. As time wore on, she knew her work for a mountain bike company and her husband’s job in IT would likely require a permanent workstation. “The idea of having my husband in the living room for another six months ... I was physically dreading it.”

Earlier this summer, they decided to invest in home office furniture for a better work-life balance and improved productivity. Factors in their purchase decision included style, quality, speed of delivery, and value, as they had to use their own budget.

After researching many options online, they ultimately selected the Bush Business Furniture Studio C collection in a contemporary Platinum Gray finish to use in their Tennessee home.

"We have a lot of desk equipment, and everything that we were glancing at just seemed like it was so flimsy," Donna said. "When we found Bush Business Furniture, that commercial grade aspect was what my husband was more into."

Once they made their decision, they received their L Shaped Desk and 5 Shelf Bookcases in a matter of days.

"I've never bought furniture online, but it came so quickly," she said. "I was so happy with your furniture; how easy it was to get and how easy it is to put together."

Donna and her husband have since learned they'll be working from home permanently. Having a commercial-grade home office in use has made life less stressful for them.

"We're all set up because we made the executive decision to get furniture early on," Donna said. "We were scared to make the purchase when we did because there had not been any permanent decisions made on working from home at the time, and it went way smoother than I thought."

The Platinum Gray finish also perfectly complements their newly created home office, which they converted from an old bedroom.

"It just blends beautifully. It's a beautiful color. The lightness of it, it seems to make the room look bigger," she said.

From the quality to the finish to the speed and value, Donna was thrilled with the purchase. She's even recommended Bush Business Furniture to a neighbor in search of a commercial-grade home office.

"It's what was advertised, and that matters to me," she said. "That's my livelihood and my husband's livelihood that we had to set up and maintain. This went extremely smoothly."
